^The Captains head was driven into the sand and it was with difficulty that they got him out. No dead body came ashore till the vessel broke up They <sup>sailors</sup> ^ did not send <sup>their</sup> ^ clothing ashore on planks. Their clothes probably were not washed off much--except Paulina's.
(Prine says it was Le Roy) He delivered to Dominy & a large man ^ "separate bundles of letters & papers" which the large man opened on the spot & separaed & threw down on the <sup>beach</sup> ~~spot~~ what he thought of no value-- What he threw down had writing on them. The Capt said he had rather have <sup>ashore</sup> gone ^ among pirates. He                   gone] been could have gone to the wreck in a skiff on Thursday.

Mr & Mrs Oakes' account

There had been no such storm since they had few could remember such a storm at this season of the year lived there or for 11 years ^--they compared it to the September gale--the fruit trees on the main land were much injured by the spray. their fire was put out by the rain--their house was isolated, the sea breaking quite several oyster boats were sunk in the bay &c over the beach in a hundred places. ^ Their still bottom up water said that own boat ^ lay upset in the Bay. ^ Oakes ^ had
